

Expect Each Home To Yield 100 Lbs. Of Scrap Material

Boys' Club All Set For First Collection Sept. 23

One hundred pounds of scrap. That's what the Narberth Boys' Club expects from you and you and you. When September 23, when they make their first collection in the six-weeks, borough-wide drive for waste material which can be salvaged, they will stop at every house and collect every kind of scrap—paper, metal, rubber, etc.—everything.

They hope to get 100 pounds from each household. At a meeting of the executive committee of the club on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Day, chairman, Charles Osner, chairman of the scrap drive, announced that the club members had completed distribution of circulars announcing the drive.

The club's regular meeting was held last Friday evening. Dave Leahy presided in the absence of the chairman, and Athletic Director Hatfield announced that football practice had started and that the club will play its first game the end of September.

A brief business session was followed by Frank LeDent, juggler. The next meeting will be held this Friday evening at 8 P. M.

Xmas Seals Ready For Overseas Gifts

The early dates—September 15 to October 15—set by the Postmaster General for mailing Christmas gifts to boys overseas will not prevent the use of Christmas Seals on the packages, according to an announcement made today by the Rev. Robert J. Gottschall, president of the Montgomery County Tuberculosis and Public Health Society.

It was explained that the seals may be obtained at headquarters of the society, McGinnis Building, 2 W. Main St., Norristown, or from the local seal sale chairman. Due to the number of requests received last year from brothers wishing to show their sons they are protecting "the health front" at home, the society decided to make seals available now for servicemen's mail.

Two Sophomores In Line For Starting Positions On Lower Merion High Eleven

Lower Merion High School's football success in recent years has been helped greatly by the timely presence of several sophomores with exceptional ability. Thus the fact that two sophomores are leading candidates for starting positions this year may be a good omen for the campaign which gets underway a week from Saturday.

Pete DiFilippo, a hard running 175-pound youngster up from Ardmore Junior High, and Armand Carpani, a powerful 190-pound guard from the same school, are the current first year men of whom much will be heard and written for many weeks pass.

DiFilippo may also be another Frank Basile or Marshall Stewart, but he'll do until a more talented back comes along. He's shown plenty of savvy in the scrimmages and has shown steady improvement.

Carpani likewise has shown exceptional promise but he's being pressed hard by another 180-pound sophomore, Dick Mattis, Jr.,

C. of C. Hears Talk On Window Display

C. Embree Addressed 51 Members At Luncheon Meeting

The show windows of a store are like a person's eyes. They indicate character and personality as well as display merchandise. C. L. Embree, manager of display for A. H. Geuting Company, said yesterday.

Embree spoke at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce, at Haverford Court Hotel, Haverford.

Store windows, he declared, should be identified with the season. They should be colorful, speculative and from the business point of view, should represent a definite planned percentage of the budget appropriation for advertising and publicity. Also, he stressed, they should tie in with the store's advertising in local newspapers.

New developments in lighting arrangements for windows, which have been discontinued during the war may soon be available again, he said, and will provide limitless possibilities for attractive and well-planned windows.

Embree, who was introduced by James A. Ritchie, chairman of the Retail Committee, closed his talk with an open forum.

Three members of the Chamber of Commerce were introduced at the luncheon. They were Walter Case, of the Narberth Electric Co.; Harold M. Gallagher, of West Laurel Hill Cemetery; and Samuel Hill, Ardmore station agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Fifty-one members of the organization attended the meeting.

Injured Player Gets Purse of $82

Local baseball fans contributed a purse of $82 to Bill Ulrich, Brookline outfielder who received a fracture of the right leg on the opening play of the second playoff game with Manoa at Veterans Park.

The nature of Ulrich's injury was revealed to the overflow crowd at last Sunday's third playoff game and a collection was taken up to help Ulrich over the period he will lose from work. The fans responded generously, the collection totaling more than a benefit game probably would have netted.

45 Entries For Book, Flower Show

Mrs. Davis Wins First For "Styles Rising" In Artistic Class

The book and flower show held in the Gladwyne Free Library on Wednesday, proved very successful, despite the downpour.

Floral entries were somewhat scarce since many persons did not care to dash out in a soaking rain to cut flowers — when they had flowers. However, there were 45 entries and since arranging a show of this type is a laborious affair, those taking part felt amply rewarded for their trouble.

The judges were Mrs. J. A. Lafore and Mrs. E. D. Paul, of the Penn Valley Garden Club, and Mrs. Dorothy Morehouse, of the Ludington Memorial Library in Bryn Mawr.

There were two classes, artistic and humorous, for both adults and juveniles, but the judges were at liberty to add special classes where they deemed it necessary. A privilege they exercised.

In the adult artistic class, first prize went to Mrs. Herbert H. Davis, Righters Mill Rd., for "Styles Rising," a very lovely arrangement of a clematis. Second prize went to Mrs. Warren B. Althouse, State Rd., for "Vanity Fair," three roses in a vase, placed against an open mirror on a make-up box.

A honorable mention went to Mrs. W. W. Lukens, Jr., Righters Mill Rd., for "A Sense of Humor," and to Mrs. Arthur O. Gevert, Young-

County Delegation Hears Gov. Dewey

County-Wide Meeting Will Be Held in Norristown, Oct. 26

Participating in the official opening of Governor Thomas E. Dewey's campaign in Philadelphia Thursday were more than one thousand Montgomery County Republicans who are carrying back to their home election districts a new fervor and enthusiasm for the Party's presidential nominee.

Prominent among the Montgomery delegation were County Chairman Lloyd H. Wood and Vice Chairman Mary H. Beerer. County Commissioners Fred C. Peters and Foster C. Hillegass, State Committeewoman Nancy C. Highley, Congressman Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., all County row officers were represented as well as area supervisors of the County Republican Organization, officers of the county committee and other political leaders to the County.

Several members of the County group were on hand to welcome Governor Dewey when he arrived in the city at the 30th Street Station while others took part in afternoon conferences at the Bellevue-Stratford. Among the latter was the Rev. Harold Anderson, of Pottstown, who participated in a conference for Negro leaders at 4 P. M.

Mrs. Beerer, Miss Highley, Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr. and others attended the luncheon for Governor Dewey at the Bellevue-Stratford.

When Governor Dewey made his forceful, vigorous and challenging address in Convention Hall before an audience which fully filled the huge auditorium, the gathering was liberally sprinkled with Montgomery County residents. Some party leaders were accorded the honor of seats on the stage while others, including many citizens who normally take only a casual interest in politics, were seated throughout the hall.

Inspired by the campaign challenge of Governor Dewey, party leaders in Montgomery County are planning to intensify efforts to get every possible Republican registered so that Montgomery County may maintain its position as the leading Republican County of the State and help put Pennsylvania in the Dewey column on November 7.

The campaign in the County will be climaxed by a County-wide meeting at Norristown City Hall on October 26. Meanwhile, the Norristown Council of Republican Women is planning a rally at City Hall on October 13.

White, Stream-Lined Ambulance Placed In Service By Medical Corps

The Volunteer Medical Service Corps of Narberth placed in service September 1 a LaSalle ambulance to answer emergency and other calls in the suburban area.

Purchase of the ambulance was made possible by loans from Narberth business men.

A suburban service plan any family will be able to subscribe to the fund and obtain ambulance service for a year.

The ambulance will be on call 24 hours a day for service between homes and hospitals. The service will be used to retire the loans and maintain the ambulance.

Members of the corps working with the ambulance will serve without pay.

Unless an emergency arises the ambulance will not respond to calls from highway accidents as these calls are being handled by the Lower Merion police ambulance.

Prior to inaugurating the service a group from the Volunteer Medical Service Corps received special training in ambulance work.

Subscription to the ambulance service was led by Capt. Thomas Merkle, who made the announcement, is like subscribing to a hospital service which guarantees treatment in case of sickness. For a nominal fee residents can now assure themselves of ambulance transportation in case of illness.

Bank -- Jive Joint -- Beauty Salon

Do you remember the depression of '29 when they told us our deposits were safe in the Merion Title and Trust Company? Above is a landmark of the era that has now been converted into one of the Main Line's most beautiful salons. On this site at the busy intersection of Narberth and Haverford Aves. in Narberth the Merion Title opened a branch bank. In fact, the old bank sign, which can be readily seen by commuters from the Narberth Railroad Station, has never been removed from the roof of the building. After the bank closed the building was vacant until opened as Merritt's, a place where the high school boys and girls bought sodas and indulged in the jive. Merritt's closed after war was declared.

In the top picture Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Rano are shown alongside some of the congratulatory bouquets they received when they moved from 37 Narberth Ave. to open up the new salon a few weeks ago.

Council Asked To Prevent Club From Changing Quarters

Solicitor's Investigation Shows They Never Intended To Move

A petition signed by 26 residents was presented to the Narberth Borough Council Monday night asking the councilmen to take steps to prevent the Italian-American Club from moving to a new address on Iona Ave.

Burgess Richard Miller and Henry T. Frye, borough solicitor, investigating the petition, announced less than 24 hours later that the petitioners had been misinformed as the Italian-American Club had no intentions of moving.

Joseph McGirk, who lives in Germantown, but who owns a house at 326 Iona Ave., presented the petition. He did the talking at the council meeting but three others accompanying him chimed in from time to time.

The Italian-American Club has its quarters in the rear of a garage at 330 Iona Ave. and the petitioners contended they were planning to buy and move into 328 Iona Ave.

McGirk said members of the club were "noisy and very profane" and that their meeting were getting more and more frequent. He contended that the people who came to the meetings were not from Narberth but from West Manayunk, Roxborough and West Philadelphia.

McGirk said two complaints had been made to police but Burgess Miller said he never heard of the complaints. He suggested they might have gone direct to Lower Merion police.

McGirk told the councilmen that he understood the club was going to apply for a liquor license. One of McGirk's delegation of four added:

"You can't sit out on your porch and entertain because of the way the club members carry on."

After Burgess Miller and Solicitor Frye investigated the petition the solicitor issued the following statement:

"The burgess and solicitor interviewed officers of the club and

Wage Tax League Declares War On City Politico Machine

The third mass meeting of the Wage Tax Protest League of Delaware County was held on Tuesday evening, in the auditorium of the Collingdale High School, Collingdale.

Guest speakers for the evening include county and State Legislators, and political leaders of both parties. The methods of attacking and defeating the Philadelphia wage tax against non-residents of the City of Philadelphia is so far as non-Federal resident Pennsylvania are concerned, was the subject of discussion.

It is the object of the Protest League, in view of legislation now pending in Washington for the relief of Federal employees, to have the necessary measures sponsored in the State Legislature at its coming session to relieve non-Federal employed residents of this State who are not domiciled in Philadelphia of the burden of the wage tax.

The meeting was of major importance to the Protest League, in as much as it marked the launching of an all out drive against the Philadelphia politico machine to force them to cease their arrests

By ERNIE PYLE

PARIS—I had thought that for me there could never again be any elation in war. But I had reckoned without the liberation of Paris. I had reckoned without remembering that I might be a part of this richly historic day.

We are in Paris—on the first day—one of the great days of all time. This is being written as other correspondents are writing their pieces under an emotional tension, a pent-up semi-delirium.

Our approach to Paris was hectic. We had waited for three days in a near by town while hourly our reports on what was going on in Paris changed and contradicted themselves: Of a morning it would look as though we were about to break through the German ring around Paris and come to the aid of the brave French Forces of the Interior who were holding parts of the city. By afternoon it would seem the enemy had reinforced until another Stalingrad was developing. We would not have to think of the destruction of Paris, and yet at times it seemed desperately inevitable.

That was the situation this morning when we left Rambouillet and decided to feel our way timidly toward the very outskirts of Paris. And then, when we were within about eight miles, rumors began to circulate that the French Second armored division was in the city. We argued for half an hour at a crossroads with a French captain who was holding us up, and finally he freed us and waved us on.

For 15 minutes we drove through a flat gardenlike country under a magnificent bright sun and amidst greenery, with distant banks of smoke pillaring the horizon ahead and to our left. And then we came gradually into the suburbs, and soon into Paris itself and a pandemonium of surely the greatest mass joy that has ever happened.

The streets were lined as by Fourth of July parade crowds at home, only this crowd was almost hysterical. The streets of Paris are very wide, and they were packed on each side. The women were all brightly dressed in white or red blouses and colorful peasant skirts, with flowers in their hair and big flashy earrings. Everybody was throwing flowers, and even serpentine.

As our jeep eased through the crowds, thousands of people crowded up, leaving only a narrow corridor, and frantic men, women and children grabbed us and kissed us and shook our hands and beat on our shoulders and slapped our backs and shouted their joy as we passed.

I was in a jeep with Henry Gorrell of the United Press, Capt. Carl Berger of Washington, C. and Corp. Alexander Belon, of Amherst, Mass. We all got kissed until we were literally red in the face, and I must say we enjoyed it.

Once when the jeep was simply swamped in human traffic and had to stop, we were swarmed over and hugged and kissed and torn at. Everybody, even beautiful girls, insisted on kissing you on both cheeks. Somehow I got started kissing babies that were held up by their parents, and for a while it looked like a baby-kissing politician going down the street. The fact that I hadn't shaved for days, and was gray-bearded as well as baldheaded, made no difference. Once women came to a stop and Frenchmen told us there were still snipers shooting, so we put our steel helmets back on.

The people certainly looked well fed and well dressed. The streets were lined with green trees and modern buildings. All the stores were closed in holiday. Bicycles were so thick I have an idea there were plenty of accidents that day, with tanks and jeeps overrunning the populace.

We entered Paris via Rue Aristide, Briand and Rue d'Orleans. We were slightly apprehensive, but decided it was all right to keep going as long as there were crowds. But finally we were stymied by the people in the streets, and then above the din we heard some not-too-distant explosions—the Germans trying to destroy bridges across the Seine. And then the rattling of machine guns up the street and the old battlefield whine of high-velocity shells just overhead. Some of us veterans ducked, but the Parisians just laughed and continued to carry on.

There came running over to our jeep a tall, thin, happy woman in a light brown dress, who spoke perfect American.

She was Mrs. Helen Carlson, who lived in Paris for 21 years and has not been home to America since 1935. Her husband is an officer in French army headquarters and home now after 2½ years as a German prisoner. He was with her in civilian clothes.

Mrs. Carlson has a sister, Mrs. George Swikart, of New York City, and I can say here to her relatives in America that she is well and happy. Incidentally, her two children, Edgar and Peter, are the only two American children, she says, who have been in Paris throughout the entire war.

We entered Paris from due South and the Germans were still battling in the heart of the city along the Seine when we arrived, but they were doomed. There was a full French armored division in the city, plus American troops entering constantly.

The farthest we got in our first hour in Paris was near the senate building, where up and down the Germans were holed up and firing desperately. So we took a hotel room near by and decided to write while the others fought. By the time you read this I'm sure Paris will once again be free for Frenchmen, and I'll be out all over town getting my bald head kissed. Of all the days of national joy I've ever witnessed this is the biggest.

The other correspondents have written so thoroughly and so well about the fantastic eruption of mass joy when Paris was liberated that I shall not dwell on much longer.

But there are some little things I have to get out of my system, so we'll have at least this one more column on it.

Actually the thing has floored most of us. I know that I have felt totally incapable of reporting it to you. It was so big I felt inadequate to touch it. I didn't know where to start or what to say. The words you put down about it sound feeble to the point of insignificance.

I'm not alone in this feeling, for I've heard a dozen other correspondents tell the same story. A good many of us feel we have failed in properly presenting the simplest, brightest story of our time. It could be that this is because we have been so unused, for so long, to anything bright.

At any rate let's go back to the demonstration. From 2 o'clock in the afternoon until darkness around 10, few Americans in Paris on that first day were kissed and hugged and mauled by friendly mobs until we hardly knew where we were.

Everybody kissed you—little children, old women, grown-up men, beautiful girls. They jumped and squealed and pushed in a liberal frenzy.

They pinned bright little flags and badges all over you. Amateur cameramen took pictures. They tossed flowers and friendly tomatoes into your jeep. One little girl even threw a bottle of cider into ours.

As you drove along, gigantic masses of waving and screaming humanity slapped their hands as though applauding a fine performance in a theater. We in the jeeps smiled and had set guns on our faces. We waved until our arms gave out, and then we just wagled our fingers. We shook hands until our hands were bruised and scratched. If the jeep stopped, you were swamped instantly. Those who couldn't reach you threw kisses at you, and we threw kisses back.

They sang songs. They sang wonderful French songs we had never heard. And they sang "Tipperary" and "Madelon" and "Over There" and the "Marseillaise."

French policemen saluted formally but smilingly as we passed. The French tanks that went in ahead of us pulled over to the sidewalks and were immediately swarmed over.

Paris seems to have all the beautiful girls we have always heard it had. The women have an art of getting themselves up fascinatingly. Their hair is done crazily, their clothes are worn imaginatively. They dress in riotous colors in this lovely warm season, and when the flag-draped holiday streets are packed with Parisians the color makes everything else in the world seem gray.

As one soldier remarked, the biggest thrill in getting to Paris is to see people in bright summer clothes again.

Like any city, Paris has its quota of dirty and ugly people. But dirty and ugly people have emotions too, and Hank Gorrell got roundly kissed by one of the dirtiest and ugliest women I have ever seen.

ford Rd., for "We're Still in the Country."

First Prize in the adult humorous class went to Mrs. Arthur Gervent for "Many Happy Days Are Squandered." A sad looking bean plant with the pods and leaves only too plainly showing devastation of the merry little bean beetle. Second prize was awarded to Mrs. Frank B. Gummey, Jr., Youngsford Rd., for "Land of the Living." A healthy pot of crab grass planted in a wooden bowl. Honorable mention went to Mrs. Ernest Earnest, Righters Mill Rd., for "I Had Four Apples." To Dr. Earnest, for "The Sun is My Undoing," and to Mrs. Stuart Bell, for "Nothing at All."

The first prize in artistic arrangement in the children's classes was awarded to Morris and Tommy Longstreth for "The Jungle Book," a tangled arrangement of grasses and twigs, with a small, assorted wild animals could be seen, and in one corner, a conclave of natives. Second prize went to Howard Althouse, State Rd., for "Little Jungle Village," a modified jungle scene in a large two and one-half ton GMC truck with a special body in which there is an electrically operated donut machine, coffee maker and all the necessary implements needed to turn out prodigious quantities of both of these much enjoyed items. Each vehicle is manned by three girls, one a captain, who do all the work and serve it to the boys, one serving consisting of two girls, and a poet, who recites (we noted for this) one-half a roll of livesavers, a stick of chewing gum and two cigarettes.

"We figure that the things we give the boys amount to about 40 per cent of the whole while the girls doing the serving make up the balance of 60 per cent. It is wonderful how the boys enjoy the whole setup and far as a morale builder is concerned, we think this is the tops."

"We travel right along with the army and sometimes get to with- out every short distance of the 'Front.' This entails many thrills and many a time things have been pretty 'hot' for us, but everyone gets a big kick out of it and the boys love it. Each group contains eight of these big clubmobiles plus trucks and trailers, water tanks, field kitchens and our own electric generators. It is quite a big operation, is entirely self contained and can go almost anywhere the army goes. This is of course only one of the many activities of your Red Cross overseas but I cannot help being quite enthusiastic as it happens to be my department."

"The clubmobiles are quite unique in the way of a mobile vehicle, that is to say we do not have such things in America at all, but we had been operating in Great Britain for some while and the boys got to know us very well. Red Cross Worker Writes of Work With Troops In France

A first hand account of life behind—and not so very far behind—the lines in France was received this week by Mrs. Henry Barnshaw, of the Main Line Branch of the Red Cross from Herbert S. Casey, of Wayne, a Clubmobile group supervisor.

The letter reads, in part: "Life in France is very interesting in view of the progress our magnificent troops are making and we of the Red Cross are eager to do all we can for these great fighters. I was the supervisor of the first Clubmobile group to reach the shores of 'La Belle France,' and to say that we were enthusiastically received would be putting it mildly."

"These clubmobiles are quite unique in the way of a mobile vehicle, that is to say we do not have such things in America at all, but we had been operating in Great Britain for some while and the boys got to know us very well. The WAR and YOU

REMINDERS

Meats, Fats—Red Stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through G5, good indefinitely.

Processed Foods—Blue Stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through L5, good indefinitely.

Sugar—Sugar Stamps 30, 31, 32 and 33 each good for five pounds indefinitely. Sugar Stamp 40, good for five pounds of canning sugar through February, next year.

Gasoline—In 17 East Coast States, A-11 coupons, good through November 8. In States outside the East Coast Area, A-12 coupons, good through September 21.

Fuel Oil—Period 4 and 5 coupons, and new period 1 coupons good throughout coming heating year.

Shoes—Airplane Stamps, 1 and 2, good indefinitely.

Income Tax—Quarterly payments due September 15.

BLUE TOKENS, FAREWELL

If you've got some blue tokens in your purse, better use them now, because after September 30 they will be good only for the kids to play with. Until next Sunday the Office of Price Administration says, you can use them just as you always have used them. Beginning Sunday, September 17, retailers will cease giving blue tokens to consumers as ration change, and shoppers will be able to spend them only in groups of 10. If necessary, shoppers may pool tokens to make up groups of 10. Removal of practically all canned and bottled vegetables and fruit spreads and specialties from rationing September 17 makes use of blue tokens unnecessary. Beginning September 17 point values on canned fruits, canned juices, canned tomatoes, catsup and chili sauce will be designated in multiples of 10.

THOSE TIRE INSPECTION RECORDS

Keep those tire inspection records until you get your new Mileage Rationing Record form along with your new "A" book, OPA says. Since discontinuance of periodic tire inspection last April, tire inspection records have been kept primarily as a record of gasoline rations issued each automobile, and will no longer be necessary when the new form is issued. Outside the East Coast States, the new "A" book will go into use September 22, and in the 17 East Coast States, February 9.

SHOE RATIONING STILL WITH US

Civilians cannot hope for an early end of shoe rationing, WPB says, unless imports of hides increases or unless there is a large cut-back in military orders. Hide shortages continue in spite of a large domestic kill of cows and calves. Heavy civilian and military consumption and decreased imports account for the shortages.

PLEASE DON'T BUY OUR SHOES

The Australian Commonwealth Footwear Controller has asked American Army authorities to limit purchases of civilian shoes by American troops, the Australian News and Information Bureau says. Sales of footwear to Americans on leave have been seriously reducing supplies for Australian civilians, inasmuch as half of Australia's total output of boots and shoes already is going to Australian and Allied forces.

RETURNED "G. I. JOES" GET JOBS

More than 50,000 returned veterans of the present war were placed in jobs during July by the Veterans Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, thus making a total of more than a half million who have been placed. Employers are offering veterans the cream of the jobs that come within their capacities, WMC says.

EVER TRY ALLIGATOR-TAIL OIL?

While Americans complain about their basic gasoline ration of two gallons per car per week, folks in other parts of the world have had to resort to grotesque expedients to keep their automobiles running, the Foreign Commerce Weekly, official publication of the Department of Commerce, says. Cuba is reported to be using fuel that is 75 per cent gasoline and 25 per cent rum, while on the Island of Martinique a mixture of 92 per cent rum and eight per cent gasoline is recommended. Alligator-tail oil is reported successfully used as a Diesel fuel in the State of Para, Brazil, and Free China has made fuel out of tung oil.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

In appealing to German farmers for maintenance of food production, the German food controller admitted that "this will be more difficult than before . . . because every fit farm worker has had to join the fighting forces and . . . because the area from which the nation and army are supplied has grown smaller," according to a broadcast reported by U. S. government monitors.

Mrs. Helen Monks Doerschuk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Monks, of 200 Grayling Ave., Narberth, has been appointed head librarian of the Ardmore Free Library, it was announced yesterday by the board of directors of the library.

Mrs. Doerschuk will assume her new duties officially this Friday. She succeeds Miss Emily McKee, of Ardmore, who resigned recently after serving as librarian for 22 years.

Mrs. Doerschuk is a graduate of Lower Merion High School, class of 1933, and of Oberlin College, class of 1938. She completed the Librarian's Course at Drexel Institute of Technology in 1939. From then until 1942, she was connected with the New York City library system.

Mrs. Doerschuk's husband, First Lt. Ernest E. Doerschuk, is in North Africa.

Dorothy Parke Weds Sergeant

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Parke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orland Parke, of Wynnewood, to Sgt. Gerard Dowdy, USA, son of Mrs. Anne Dowdy, of Audubon, N. J., took place September 2, in the Wynnewood Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Alleen Gould, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. Mr. Alleen Gould served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Harley Cook, Claude Anding, James Dowdy and Bruce Gould.

A small reception at the Mala Golf Club followed the ceremony. Sgt. Dowdy is home on furlough after a year's service overseas.

Polio Victims Get Kenny Treatment From Therapists

Eleven infantile paralysis victims in the Norristown area and three in Upper Darby for whom hospitalization was not possible, are being given the Sister Kenny Home Treatment under the auspices of the Metropolitan-Philadelphia Society for Crippled Children, it was announced yesterday by Miss Eleanor Loomis, of Wynnewood, the group's orthopedic consultant.

Miss Loomis and her staff of Kenny technicians visit the polio patients daily or as often as is necessary. They demonstrate to the persons caring for the victim a preliminary but very important part of the Kenny treatment, the hot packing.

The muscle re-education and rehabilitation—essential in the treatment—are done by the Society's Kenny-trained therapists.

ascertained they have not entered into any agreement for the purchase of 328 Iona Ave. As a matter of fact, they have not even voted on the question. They have not and do not intend to make any application for a liquor license.

As far as the zoning ordinance is concerned clubs are permitted to operate. The only place where the borough would interfere would be if there was any violation of the law or any disturbance of the peace. But Council has received no complaints. If application is made for a liquor license that is a matter for the State Liquor Board and not the Borough of Narberth to decide.

Sessions Begin
Lower Merion began its Golden anniversary year with opening exercises in the Down's Gymnasium on Wednesday, September 8. Ben West, president of the Student Council, officiating.

Please for students to participate in the various Fall sports were made by: John Wynn, soccer; Dot Biddle, hockey; Carl Reeves, cross-country; Fred Raker, football.

After the sinking of the Red and White by the student body, "Andy" Anderson urged all girls and boys to sign up for a Fall sport. "Even if you don't make the team," stated Anderson, "the practice will be excellent."

Students then reported to their classes until dismissal at 11:40 A. M.

Two one thousand dollar races are on the card for the Rose Tree Races, Saturday, October 21. The purses will be given for the Foxcatcher Plate, two mile steeplechase, and for the Ormeau Cup handicap steeplechase at two miles and a half. The purses are sufficiently large to attract good entries.

Three other races will be on the Rose Tree card for October 21. These are the Agricultural Stakes, the so-called Farmers' race, open to all farmers, land owners or hunt members of Southeastern Pennsylvania, the Riddle Cup race, and the Autumn Stayers' Handicap.

The five race card will start at 2:30 P. M. and the races will be run rain or shine.

four snappy plays that snuffed out Manoa scoring opportunity. Swanda made two of these twin killings unassisted and also figured in the other.

The Hares, who had had an uncertain makeshift infield the week before, were able to hold their regular combination because the league Executive Committee gave Manager Eddie Hare permission to use Ardmore's Fred Brittingham in the remaining series games because Brookline had no regular catchers and two other regulars during the last month.

Catcher Jackie Werner was signed by the Phillies and sent to Bradford; reserve catcher Ray Dunne was signed by the St. Louis Cardinals and split a finger on his throwing hand in a tryout at Allentown; Outfielder Joe Kennedy went into the Army and Bill Ulrich, another outfielder, fractured his leg in the second series game with Manoa.

Few believed Brittingham's presence would make much difference as he batted a weak .109 during the regular season and, although an infielder, was signed by Hare to fill the vacancy at catcher. But as so often happens in cases of this kind, Brittingham came up with his finest game of the year last week. He handled Len Smith's bounces very capably and easily. Brookline's biggest gun at the plate—getting four hits (a double and three singles) which were just two less than his entire total for the regular season.

Brittingham came through with his double after Charley Spellman and Bogash had singled in the third inning. Ralph Spotts, who had been a total washout at the plate in the series prior to that moment, came out of his slump with a slashing triple and the Hares went out in front, 3-2, never to be headed thereafter.

Whitney Jepson put the clincher on the victory with a home run—his second of the series—with Bogash on base in the seventh inning.

Reds Larkin also hit a home run for Manoa in addition to a single, but the losers were placed at the plate by Ed Snyder and Litwiler, each of whom had three hits.

Friends Central Inaugurates Plan to Send Students Abroad

Inauguration of a plan for students to spend a year or more abroad was announced yesterday by Dr. Barclay L. Jones, headmaster of Friends Central School.

Under the plan, which will go into effect in the 1945-46 school year, students will have the opportunity to spend one year attending school in a foreign country, living in a carefully selected family and acquiring a practical knowledge of the language of the country. The time spent abroad will not interfere with or prolong preparation for college. It has been tentatively decided that the optional year will occur during a part of the sophomore year and part of the preceding or following Summer.

Because of the war, the plan will at first be limited to Latin American countries, with special emphasis on Mexico because of its comparative accessibility. Reasons for the school undertaking the plan, Dr. Jones said, were threefold:

1. The belief that knowledge of a foreign language and understanding of foreign viewpoints are increasingly important business and cultural assets.
2. The belief that there should be an improvement in educational standards in the United States based on recognition of the fact that educated men and women in this country are less proficient in foreign languages than educated persons in other countries.
3. The belief that the ages of 14 to 17 are better years for easily acquiring a foreign language than later years.

Football Schedule At Military Academy
Wayne, Pa.—The most ambitious schedule in their history faced the Trojans of Valley Forge Military Academy when they assembled for pre-season scrimmages here today under the non-committal eye of Captain John Maddox, former Manlius, Duke, and Rutgers half-back.

Around a nucleus of two regulars, seven subs, and a dozen graduates of intramural frays, Maddox faces the task of building a team to meet Episcopal Academy in Wayne on October 6. His squad now numbers 34, with additional prospects likely among the new cadets reporting next week.

Away games include Lawrenceville, October 14; Hill, October 21; Blair, November 4, and Norristown High, November 18, and the remaining home games are Pedit, October 28; Mercersburg, November 11, and Manlius, November 25.

Sportsmen To Trap Shoot and Fly Cast At Annual Outing Sunday on Nash Farm

Montgomery, Delaware and Philadelphia County sportsmen will open their Fall activities program with a meeting of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, Wednesday night, September 20 in the American Legion Hall, Narberth, followed by the Club's annual picnic and outing on Sunday afternoon, at the Nash Farm on Sprague Road just outside of Narberth.

At the first Fall meeting of the Club's board of directors last Wednesday night, preliminary plans were made for the outing. In the absence of Field Captain Cappalonga of Narberth, who is in the service of his country, Earnest Jenkins, also of Narberth, volunteered to carry on.

Among the attractions at the outing will be trap shooting, plus fly and surf casting competition, games for the children and ladies for all events and a tasty buffet toward the end of the afternoon's fun.

The outing committee is composed of the following officers, directors and committee chairmen of the Club:

Charles E. Spencer, Sr., Upper Darby; C. H. A. Chain, Sr., Narberth; Frank P. Davis, Philadelphia; Lloyd DuBois, Bala-Cynwyd; E. C. Criswold, Narberth; Philip Cappalonga, Field Captain, Narberth; Stanislas Czerger, Philadelphia; John Albrecht, Jr., Narberth.

Victor Sweet, Ardmore; Thomas Johnson, South Ardmore; George M. Floyd, Sr., Narberth; Earnest Jenkins, Narberth; Frank Gorman, Ardmore; John A. Miller, Sr., Narberth; Ernest Bouley, Narberth; Howell and Ellen Dietrich, Upper Darby.

Ira J. Mills, supervisor of agricultural education at the Eastern State Penitentiary in Graterford, will be the guest speaker at the September 20th meeting of the Club, and will tell the sportsmen just what comprises a day's activities at the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The education program at the Eastern State Penitentiary is of especial interest to the sportsmen, since part of the work consists of raising pheasants and trees which are annually distributed among the member clubs of the Montgomery County Sportsmen's Clubs to improve hunting and fishing conditions for the sportsmen.

It was reported at the Club's board of directors' meeting, that last week members of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, including Victor Sweet of Ardmore, William Bullock of Upper Darby, Thomas Johnson of South Ardmore, and Samuel Arrel of Lancaster and Ellen Dietrich of Upper Darby, had aided Montgomery County Game Protector Ambrose Gerhart to release young hen pheasants which were raised this year at the Penitentiary.

Motorists are cautioned by the Club to exercise every care while driving in areas where children are walking or playing, and parents are told very emphatically that they should not attempt to transfer the whole burden of safety training to the schools.

Upper Darby. Ira J. Mills, supervisor of agricultural education at the Eastern State Penitentiary in Graterford, will be the guest speaker at the September 20th meeting of the Club, and will tell the sportsmen just what comprises a day's activities at the Eastern State Penitentiary.

The education program at the Eastern State Penitentiary is of especial interest to the sportsmen, since part of the work consists of raising pheasants and trees which are annually distributed among the member clubs of the Montgomery County Sportsmen's Clubs to improve hunting and fishing conditions for the sportsmen.

It was reported at the Club's board of directors' meeting, that last week members of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club, including Victor Sweet of Ardmore, William Bullock of Upper Darby, Thomas Johnson of South Ardmore, and Samuel Arrel of Lancaster and Ellen Dietrich of Upper Darby, had aided Montgomery County Game Protector Ambrose Gerhart to release young hen pheasants which were raised this year at the Penitentiary.

Urged to Safeguard School Children
With the opening of schools for the Fall term of 1944, Keystone Automobile Club reminds motorists and parents of their respective responsibilities for the safety of children.

There is only one excuse for telling Helen Conner's story

"MY FATHER was born in Russia but he came to America years ago. With my brothers Al and Mike, I was brought up as a good American.

"When I was in my teens I met a handsome young Navy man at a Shriners' convention in San Francisco. His name was Bryan Conner. It was love at first sight—and you know the reputation of the Navy for action. Bryan proposed that night. He didn't know when we could marry because he had to get right back to his destroyer. But we weren't going to wait.

"I rented a motor boat, went out to the destroyer and talked to the captain. In five minutes Bryan was on his way back to shore and we were married.

"As time passed we had a fine baby boy. We named him William. By the time Bill was growing into young manhood my husband was assigned to recruiting service in Atlanta. He and Bill had great times hunting and fishing together. We were a happy family. My two brothers visited us often and we'd have the jolliest parties and picnics.

"Then the war started in Europe. Our son came to us one night and explained how he felt about it. He wanted to be prepared so he enlisted.

"Like any mother I hated him to leave home—but I couldn't stand in his way. Bill joined up.

"Pearl Harbor was more than my husband could take. He had lots of friends on the Arizona, the Utah, and other ships. He was 48 years old but he asked for active duty and he got it—on a PT boat in the South Pacific.

"My brothers got in too—Al in the Army, Mike in the Seabees. There they were—all four of them in it, my husband and brother Mike in the Pacific; my son and brother Al in Africa.

"I had to do something. So I went to welding school. After I finished school I taught welding. My thoughts were always with my husband, my son, and my brothers. I was working for them. I was living for their return. On June 30th of last year I opened this telegram:

"The Secretary of War desires that I tender his deepest sympathy to you in the loss of your son. Report received states that he was killed in action on June 28th in the North African Theatre of War.

"Four days later, on the 4th of July, I got another message:

Deeply regret to inform you that your brother, Michael Zadorkin, was killed in action in performance of his duty and in the service of his country in the South Pacific on July 2, 1943.

"On July 8th I read:

"The Secretary of War desires that I tender his
